

Legislation should be introduced to allow companies to be able to call clients that have bought from them in the past 18 months. Also, the fines are unreasonably high and should be lowered.